THE AIA/LA ANNOUNCES ITS 2005 SUMMER HOME TOUR SCHEDULE

Los Angeles (April 2005) – The American Institute of Architects/ Los Angeles (AIA/LA) is pleased to announce its annual summer Home Tour schedule, featuring stunning, contemporary homes by Los Angeles’s leading architects and designers. Los Angeles and environs have one of the most dynamic housing markets and some of the world’s finest examples of residential architecture, making this annual home tour a much-anticipated event for the city’s design savvy.

The self-guided Home Tours provide a rare opportunity to see inside beautiful, cutting-edge residences by esteemed architects such as Koning Eizenberg, Johnston Marklee, John Friedman Alice Kimm, and Larry Scarpa, among others. Participants receive a ticket, map, driving directions and information about each home on the tour. The architects/designers and docents are available onsite to answer questions. Many of the homes included in the 2005 tour schedule have been featured in top publications such as Dwell and the Los Angeles Times Magazine and Architecture Digest.
